

AUTHORS' ASSURANCES

General statement of authors' assurances

I, the undersigned author [or in cases appropriate, on behalf of the specified author(s)], certify that all of the authors have contributed to the study design, collection or analysis of data, or editing for intellectual content or writing of this manuscript to sufficiently justify authorship credit for this publication. I also certify that the manuscript contains no unlawful statements and nor any materials that violate any personal or proprietary rights of others. I agree to indemnify and hold the Journal of Clinical and Translational Hepatology (JCTH) harmless against any claim to the contrary.

I have reviewed the final version of the manuscript, agree with the conclusions stated therein, and approve its submission to the JCTH for publication. Furthermore, I certify that to my knowledge neither this manuscript nor one with substantially similar content under my authorship has been published previously or is currently under consideration for publication elsewhere, including any versions in languages other than English. If, during the course of peer-review, other relevant data are requested, I will comply with the request.
